

THE ARIZONA REPUBLICAN.

Double the Circulation of Any Daily Paper Published in Arizona.

VOL. III.

PHOENIX, ARIZONA, SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 21, 1892.

NO. 2.

BOUGHT HIS WIFE OFF.

She Sued for Divorce and He Bribed Her to Stop.

FAILED TO PAY OVER THE PRICE.

So Now the Case Goes on—New Brunswick's Latest Scandal.

The Wife Tracked Her Recrudescent Husband Down and Caught him With His Companion.

Associated Press Dispatches.

New Brunswick, N.J., May 20.—Love has been playing some strange freaks in this city. The sensation caused by Henry Randolph's impetuous wooing of Johanna Morfals was not over before fresh food for gossip was furnished by the approaching divorce suit of Mrs. John Barbour against ex-Alderman Barbour, a prominent politician and prosperous liveryman. The charge is infidelity.

Mrs. Nellie Ayres is named as co-respondent, and her husband is also suing her for divorce. Spicy developments are expected when the cases come to trial.

Upon learning of her husband's alleged infidelity Mrs. Barbour left him and went to live with her mother. A short time after this she created a sensation by tracking her husband to Trenton with the aid of a woman detective. The recreant husband was found there in company with a fascinating young woman. There was a stormy scene on the platform of the Trenton station when the two women met, the result being that Barbour's fair companion sought safety in flight.

Shortly after this the husband attempted to effect a reconciliation by offering to deed a house and lot to his wife if she would forgive him and discontinue the suit. This she consented to do, but his husband failed to keep his promise and retained possession of the house. Mrs. Barbour thereupon renewed her suit for divorce, and in addition brought suit to obtain possession of the property.

Vice-Chancellor Bird, in deciding the latter suit, said that in his opinion after the husband and wife had been separated and had entered into contracts which were reasonable to become reconciled it is public policy that such contracts should be enforced. He thereupon ordered that the deed for the property be passed to the wife.

All the parties in the case are prominent people and well-known in this city.

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR DEAFNESS.

Dr. Leach of Washington Finds Encouragement in Their Use.

New York, May 20.—When Edison built the phonograph he used the human ear as a guide, and the construction of that machine involved the mechanical design upon which the ear is fashioned. Probably he had no idea of applying the invention to the cure of deafness, but science has begun to do that.

Dr. G. A. Leach of Washington is a believer in the phonograph as a remedy for that affliction. Experiments at home strengthened his belief and he introduced the phonograph into his practice.

Today he made some experiments in this city at the office of the New York Phonograph company on Fifth avenue. In most cases, Dr. Leach says, the sound from the ear becomes choked, and a coating forms on the bones of the ear which interferes with vibration. As this coating thickens and hardens the vibratory power becomes less, and when it ceases the function of the ear drum is suspended. Dr. Leach's idea is that vibratory force applied to the ear by means of a phonograph must quicken the ear drum and affect the coating of the inner bones. Gradually this coating must be dislodged, and with the completion of that process hearing will be restored. This may happen in the majority of cases in about two months, he thinks, with daily treatment of twenty minutes' duration.

Dr. Leach has prepared a variety of cylinders to produce different sound effects. The intensity of the vibrations is under the control of the operator, so that the treatment may be varied if necessary. The sensation is said to be pleasant to the deaf. To persons of normal hearing the sounds resemble and clatter like the noise of a railroad train. Musical cylinders are not suited to the treatment, although in certain cases bells, cymbals, and the chimes of small bells may be used to advantage.

THE ROTCHILDS RAISE SALARIES.

A Beneficial Result of the Embellishment of Cashier Jaeger.

FRANKFORT, May 20.—The arrest of Jaeger, the fugitive cashier of the Eschbacher, has been accompanied by the revelation of some remarkable features of his theft of $1,700,000 marks. The letter sent from Darmstadt soon after his flight was written by his mistress, who was captured with him in Alexandria, and the story that he had wasted the whole sum in speculation was a cunningly contrived falsehood. By thus announcing the every appearance of the money that the money was spent, the motive of parent would be removed, Jaeger and his mistress thought, and they could enjoy at their leisure the 1,000,000 marks which the cashier has pocketed away in his trunk.

The sum was not obtained according to the demands of the cashier's creditors through a series of years, but was stolen in two big lumps.

A beneficial consequence of the embellishment has been that the Rothschilds have raised salaries in the Frankfurt house in most cases 50 to 75 per cent.

Jaeger's successor, for instance, receives 100,000 marks, just double the sum paid to Jaeger. The exact amount of money found in Jaeger's trunk in Alexandria is said to have been 1,652,000 marks.

A PANIC IN CHURCH.

Salvation Army Not Afraid of the Devil but Run From a Dog.

New York, May 20.—A friendless little Scotch terrier, goaded to madness

by the persecutions of a crowd of bad boys, burst into the Ashbury M. E. Church on Washington square this afternoon during the progress of a Salvation Army meeting and created so much excitement that the congregation had to be dismissed. Sergeant A. J. T. Ray was delivering an address at the time and the church was filled with maidens in Salvation Army bonnets, captains, sergeants and high privates in full regalia. The long prayer had been said, the collection taken up and several hallelujah songs had been sung with all the vim usually put into Salvation Army songs, when a scream near the door announced to the assemblage that something had happened. The scream came from a rosy cheeked Salvation lassie and was occasioned by the dog, which was looking up in her face appealingly. The dog had been chased into the church by some small boys in the square. He gave a bark of joy when he was inside and ran swiftly to the altar. The people were scared. They saw the white froth on the dog's mouth, and the blood on the stones thrown by the boys had struck. There was a panic. Sergeant Ray made his escape out of the rear entrance and the Rev. Mr. Stone, the pastor of the church, led the way out the front door. The dog was left in full possession, none in his white stovepipe hat finally screwed up enough courage to attempt to eject him. The dog was tired and the negro was fresh, so when the latter grabbed the dog by the throat he did not resist, he only yelped. No one noticed the plainclothesman in the yelp. The negro ran to a garbage box outside the church and threw the dog in and closed the cover. Then a policeman came up and fired two shots from his big revolver into the box. He hammered on the box with his club. The yelping had ceased. He opened the box and lifted out a dead dog.

IN COLD BLOOD!

A Horrible Murder is Committed Near Globe.

DETAILS OF THE CRIME.

John M. See Shoots and Kills His Wife.

Special to THE REPUBLICAN.

GLOBE, ARIZ., May 20.—The horrible murder committed on Salt river Wednesday evening has created great excitement here. All the men on the river have joined the pursuit, and if captured the murderer, See, will probably be lynched.

Great indignation was felt when the news was brought to Globe of a terrible murder which was committed on Salt river Wednesday evening. John M. See shot and killed his wife at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. Gunn. See, who is a worthless scoundrel, has not lived happily with his wife, and some time ago, exasperated by her cruelty, she left him, and at the time of her death was living with her sister, Mrs. Gunn. See hung around the house all day trying to have her go back to live with him, but she refused.

About 6 o'clock she went to the corral to milk and while she was thus engaged See came up behind and shot her twice. The first time the bullet entered just over the heart, passed clear through the body and broke the right arm. The second bullet entered at the pit of the stomach.

Deputy Sheriff George Pemberton left for the river yesterday morning. See was but recently released from jail.

HAS LEFT HIS WIFE.

Ward McAllister's Son Will Not Keep the Vows He Made at His Secret Marriage.

New York, May 20.—The report that Heyward McAllister and his wife had gone on their bridal tour and would return to the city in a few days is denied. Henry Gallup, attorney for young Mr. McAllister, said this evening:

"Heyward McAllister and his wife have not left the city together, and he has not been in the city since early last week. I have it from the lips of Heyward McAllister that he has not seen his wife since the announcement of their marriage. He is not with her and has no intention of living with her. I do not know where his wife is, but I do know that she and her husband are apart and will remain apart. I have it from Mr. McAllister that they have never lived together."

"Will there be a suit for divorce?" Mr. Gallup was asked.

"I am not able to answer that question," was the reply. "All I can say is that despite the fact that the marriage was bona fide, Mr. and Mrs. Heyward McAllister will remain as far apart as if they had never been married. He, perhaps, can explain why this is to be, and the explanation will have to come from him. I had a telegram from Mr. McAllister today. He is at Yonkers and I have no idea when he intends returning to the city."

GIFT OF THE CZAR.

The Place Presented to Captain Findlay to be Exhibited at the World's Fair.

HARTFORD, May 20.—The magnificent gold tea service presented by the czar and czarina of Russia to Captain John Findlay, of the steamship Missouri, and by him to President B. N. Baker of the Atlantic Transport Line and Baltimore Storage and Lighthouse company, has arrived in this city. It is a beautiful specimen of the goldsmith's art and rests in a handsome case of polished, gold-bound rosewood. The service consists of seven pieces, teapot, sugar bowl, cream pitcher, sugar tongs, teastrainer, tea scoop and stirring fork. Each is a piece of solid, heavy gold, the surface being covered with enamel work of artistic merit. The service will be sent to the world's fair for exhibition in connection with an enormous model of the company's new twin-screw steamer, and the models and testimonials which were presented to Captain Hamilton Murrell of the steamer service.

CATHOLICISM DENOUNCED.

A Preacher Predicts War Between Catholics and Protestants.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Rev. Dr. Justin D. Fulton spoke tonight in this city on the topic: "Shall the Columbian Exposition be Romanized?" He referred to the growing influence of Catholicism in the United States as something to be greatly feared by all lovers of freedom. He predicted that, in the near future, a great war would be waged between the Catholics and Protestants in the United States, by which Catholicism would be as deeply buried as was slavery by the civil war. He offered resolutions, which were seconded by Rev. Dr. D. D. McDaurin, and unanimously carried.

The resolutions condemned Mrs. Palmer for requesting the participation of the pope in the women's department, and suggesting that, if Mrs. Palmer secured the instruments of torture of the inquisition, referring to the announced determination of the pope to write an encyclical letter at the time of the Chicago fair, in which he would trace the life of Columbus and indicate the part taken by the Holy See, the resolution read:

"It is to be hoped that Leo XIII. will be explicit and describe the man (Alexander VI.) who, as bishop, cardinal and pope, is a synonym for infamy. History will tell Mrs. Palmer that the life of Alexander VI., in relation to his daughters Lucretia and others, is such that it cannot be described."

HARBOR AGAIN REFUSES.

To Surrender the Rustler War Prisoners to the Authorities.

CHRYSTEN, Wyo., May 20.—Governor Barber has made known his intention to again refuse to deliver the prisoners of the rustler war to the Johnson county authorities. The second demand was made on Thursday by Deputy Sheriff Snider. The executive says he does not consider that quiet has been restored in the disturbed section. He fears that there would be more serious trouble if the stockmen were taken to the scene of their crime. The Johnson county people now at the railway have placed their grievances with Judge Blake, in whose district they are located. He tells them that the law shall be fully respected, that he will insist on prosecution and defeat persecution.

NEW MEXICO IRON.

The Pennsylvanians to Open up the Hanover Deposits.

CHICAGO, May 20.—A party of eastern capitalists met here Monday and a deal in iron field will be opened up in the Hanover valley of New Mexico, about twenty miles from Silver City. The property had been quietly secured and the men who now own the thirty-one mining claims that cover the deposit will put a value upon it anywhere from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000. Fifteen million tons of almost pure ore of the Bessemer steel quality are said to be in sight and work has already been begun on the highest development of the property which include railways and possibly smelting works to be owned by the company.

A PARIS MYSTERY.

TWO MEN DECEIVED TO THEIR DEATH.

The French Capital Adds Another Bloody Crime to Its Already Long List of Murders.

Associated Press Dispatches.

PARIS, May 20.—Paris is excited over another mysterious tragedy. Last Wednesday M. Dulamon, one of the officials of the Hotel des Monnaies, was summoned to a closed carriage in the street by the announcement that a lady wished to see him. On his return he was evidently much annoyed, and requested a commissionaire, in his service, to accompany him on a mission, the nature of which he did not mention.

Neither of the men returned and the first chapter of the mystery was solved today by the finding of two bodies in the Seine, which, subsequently, were identified as those of the missing official of the Hotel des Monnaies and his companion.

The spot where the bodies were found was some distance from any well frequented place, and the bodies were found in the Seine, which, subsequently, were identified as those of the missing official of the Hotel des Monnaies and his companion.

The theories of the authorities is that M. Dulamon and the commissionaire were deceived to this locality, murdered and their bodies thrown into the river. There is, however, no motive known for the crime.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

George Kane and family drove down from Tempe yesterday.

W. T. Stanlick is building a residence on North Yuma street.

A good many mining prospects have been located recently.

Dr. A. E. Martin went to Aztec last night on professional business.

S. F. Webb of the Gazette left last night on a business trip to Yuma.

The Valley bank shipped a carload of ore to Socorro, New Mexico, last night.

There is considerable talk about opening the Pima reservation for settlement.

G. V. H. Shaver was among the outward bound passengers on last night's train.

Extensive arrangements are being made at the park for the opening on Tuesday next.

Registration begun yesterday preparatory for the November election. Judge Hixon has the register.

W. A. Bondurant loaded his freight team with merchandise for his store at Minneapolis flat yesterday.

E. B. Ames, who has been stopping at the Alhambra for a few days past, left on last night's train for New Mexico.

The new threshing of Oroscos & Marlow's is now almost ready for work. This is a fine machine and cost nearly $4,000.

A number of parties from Tempe will go to the Hole-in-the-Rock on Sunday, where they will probably be joined by a party from this city.

But for the two courts, yesterday was a very quiet day in Phoenix. The usual volume of business during the week, however, is assured.

A party of young folks went out in the country north of this city yesterday and held a picnic. These select parties are growing fashionable.

The juryman from various parts of the valley in attendance at the courts in session are getting anxious to go home, as grain is ready for harvest.

The train yesterday morning brought back quite a number of citizens from Gila Bend. They report the country settling rapidly under the Wolfley canal.

Thomas Kennedy, who died on Thursday, was buried by members of Arizona Lodge No. 2, F. and A. M., yesterday at 3:30 p. m. on the Masonic hall in this city.

The federal grand jury are pushing the work with a view of getting through this week, but it is quite doubtful whether they will, as new work is pouring in rapidly.

The thermometer registered 102 degrees yesterday in the shade. Occasion-

THE DISTRICT COURT.

The Jury Hung in the Maggie Dean Case.

STOOD NINE FOR CONVICTION.

Eloquent Plea by District Attorney and a Shrewd One by Defense.

The Jury Out for Three Hours and Twenty Minutes—The Standing Was Not Changed.

The court house was crowded again yesterday morning to listen to the arguments in the Maggie Dean case.

The defense asked permission to allow the prisoner to make an additional statement, and the request was granted.

Robinson looked fresh and bright as though he had passed a pleasant night. His voice was low and the jury complained they could not hear him. His statement was in regard to the burning of drift wood under which the gun and clothes and $45 in bills had been placed. He said the burning of the entire pile was not anticipated. He fired the pile to get warm and on awakening found he was encircled by fire.

The place where the things were hid is just yards from where he started the fire.

The juryman asked several questions, but nothing new was elicited.

The arguments were opened by Frank Cox, district attorney, and he made a neat half hour speech, showing the enormity of the crime of which the prisoner stands accused.

Judge Lighthizer, for the defense, offered an apology to the jury. Although he had been a practitioner for thirty years, his ambition had never been to be a criminal lawyer, as he considered it a lazy man's job.

He handled the defense with shrewdness and related many amusing anecdotes. His object seemed to be rather to amuse than instruct, but wound up with a strong appeal for sympathy for the blue-eyed boy he was defending.

Some of the authorities cited were local, but on the whole the defense was ably conducted and it was probably due much to this that the prisoner was not convicted.

The district attorney followed and made one of those eloquent and impassioned speeches for which he has but few equals in the entire west. He pictured the case with such vividness that everyone seemed impressed. He wound up with a burst of oratory and pathos seldom heard in cases of this character.

The case was ably handled and the evidence on each side was clearly defined in their separate theories.

The court adjourned till 2 o'clock, when the jury received their instructions and were sent to the jury room for deliberation.

The jury reported at 4 p. m., but had not yet agreed on a verdict.

They got again into their deliberations, after the instructions had once more been read to them.

At 5:40 p. m. they again returned and stated it was impossible for them to arrive at a verdict. They were then discharged, but will report for duty today at 10 a. m. in the case of the prisoner for conviction and three for acquittal.

It is not known whether the case will come up again this term, but at any rate one more has been added to the long and expensive lists of hung juries.

THREATS BY FIREMEN.

Sensational Stories Told by Witnesses in a Buffalo Investigation.

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 20.—This morning the fire commission began an investigation into the reports that firemen had committed robberies at different fires and a startling state of affairs was developed by the testimony.

At one fire in particular, that of Gilligan's saloon, Police Sergeant Reagan swore that he saw Chief Horning and a companion fairly "loaded down" with plunder taken from the burning building.

The department is in a deplorable state. Officers of fire companies were shown to have known of the thefts of the men and winked at it. The investigation became so personal and profane that it was adjourned until next Monday.

AMERICAN CHINESE.

An Effort to Colonize Them in One of the Mexican States.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 20.—Ching Wung and Cong Foo, the former a wealthy Chinaman of San Francisco, and the latter of St. Louis, are here and have had two audiences with President Diaz. The object of the visit is to secure a colonization concession in the state of Tamaulipas for the purpose of removing almost the entire population of their countrymen who reside in the United States. They claim to represent a society of Chinese in the United States numbering several thousand, all of whom are pledged to leave that country on account of the exclusion act, and seek new homes in Mexico.

A Convict Plot Frustrated.

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—Through the assistance of two trusty prisoners the warden of the state penitentiary this evening discovered a plan by which at least five, but probably more, desperate prisoners were to have escaped from that institution tonight. Two were to walk out by the aid of forged passes, relying upon the inability of the new guards recently put at the outer gates to recognize them, and the others were to cut their way through the roof and lower themselves by the means of ropes to the ground. They had a key that would unlock the whole range of cells. In one of the shops an incendiary device was found, by which the buildings were to be fired tonight, and in the excitement the escape would be effected. A candle was arranged so that when it was burned it would fire a lot of waste. Upon this waste a large box was piled, making a very combustible pile. One of the prisoners had $112 in his possession and the prison authorities are puzzled to know where he got it.

WHY NOT IMPROVE?

Sidewalks Ought to Be Constructed Immediately.

WHAT BECOMES OF THE TAXES?

A Crying Want for Improvements by the People of Phoenix.

Free Mail Delivery Can Be Obtained by Complying With the Law—Rubbish Accumulates.

The present is a stirring age and no one appreciates that fact more than the citizens of Phoenix, nor is any set of business men more liberal, providing they have a reasonable assurance their money is judiciously expended.

That the city has not a decent block of sidewalk is an admitted fact. Why is this? The city is by no means poor nor its residents stingy. It is because there is no action taken by the proper authorities.

On and after July 1 if suitable walks were constructed this city would be entitled to free mail delivery, as the limit of $10,000 a year has been reached by the city post office, yet no action has been taken to make it possible to be done.

The real estate men and property owners in the suburbs, it is true, have done much in the way of grading, setting out ornamental trees, etc., but they have not been seconded by the central force of the city.

Many citizens are inquiring daily what becomes of their taxes, as every business in the city, almost, pays an occupation tax each quarter. The rate of taxation is high and people naturally wonder what becomes of the constant stream of money flowing into the city treasury.

The city marshal works on a meagre salary and so does his deputy. The cost of policing the city is less than in any city of its size in the entire west, as far as salary is concerned. The councilmen work without pay and scarcely anything is expended on street improvement and no public buildings are in course of erection.

Is the city too poor to build or maintain respectable sidewalks on Washington and other principal streets of the city? If not, why are they not built immediately? Is the question asked, the answer is that the city has not the money to do so. The city has not the money to do so.

These and similar questions and remarks are heard daily by public-spirited business men who feel they have a right to expend their money to beautify the city, and at the same time enhance the value of their own property.

The Republican does not wish to dictate, but it is the province of every good newspaper to keep pace with public opinion, and the many murmurs of the ambitious people who are anxious for the welfare of the city have a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix, if she ever expects to become a city, will be compelled to divest itself of its swaddling clothes and face the question of improvements manfully.

There is not a town in the entire west that has a better opportunity to become a city than Phoenix. The city has a right to express their wishes, doubts and fears till something substantial is done.

The few apologies for sidewalks as deadfalls, and scarcely a night passes that profanity might be avoided if it were not for the elevated sidewalks, sudden jumps or boxes, wheelbarrows and a hundred other things to endanger both life and limb of the late pedestrian.

Even the streets are clothed in cimmerian darkness, when it is not moonlight, which could be avoided by expending a few dollars on street lights.

Phoenix